Call for the position of Editor

The editorship of this journal, published by the MLA Forum, Languages, Literatures and Cultures, Medieval Iberian, is shared on a rotating basis among researchers in our sector of the profession. The Executive Committee of the MLA Forum, LLC Medieval Iberian, now seeks applications for the position of Editor for La corónica.

Applicants should be established scholars with publishing and editing experience in both English and Spanish. Evidence of successful collaborative work is required. The editor will be responsible for reviewing submissions, choosing outside readers, offering editorial suggestions, assembling and sending suggestions to authors, inviting some submissions as well as undertaking other tasks related to the pre-publication phase of a scholarly journal and sending finished revisions for copy-editing. The editor will be expected to deliver final edited copy of each issue of the journal to Sheridan Press and to Project Muse in time for the publication of issues in January and June of each year.

In consultation with the Editorial Staff and the Executive Committee, the editor will plan La corónica-sponsored sessions at regional, national, and international conferences. The editor will consult with the Executive Committee of the LLC Medieval Iberian and with the Managing Editor to make any necessary changes to the membership of the Editorial Board of the journal and will report to LLC Medieval Iberian Executive Committee during the annual meeting of the Executive Committee at the Modern Languages Association Convention.

Ideally the new Editor should be in a supportive department or program where the work of the journal may be shared with qualified colleagues and with graduate students as a mentored experience. The editor should expect an average of eight or more hours of pro bono work each week year-round, with fluctuations over the course of the year. Assurance of institutional support and release time for editorial duties will form part of the successful application portfolio. Applicants must hold membership in the MLA.

Please send a statement describing your interest, qualifications, and the level of institutional support you will have for your editorship to Prof. Isidro Rivera, Managing Editor, La corónica, Department of Spanish and Portuguese, The University of Kansas, Wescoe Hall, 1445 Jayhawk Blvd., Room 2636, Lawrence, KS 66045-2166, e-mail: ijrivera@ku.edu.

Applications should include:

1. Statement of interest, qualifications, and nature of institutional support
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. Names of three references with contact information

The Editor would begin the transition into the editorship in fall 2018.

Application Deadline: Initial review of applications begins 4/1/2018 and continues as long as needed to identify a qualified pool.
